INTERIOR ARCHITECT ARCHITECTURE - PREPARATION, PRACTICE & PROFESSION....

Interior architecture is defined and measured in terms of aesthetics, foundation, effectiveness, and the experience produced for the users of designed environments. The Interior Architect examines the architectural elements, the intended function of interior space and creates a design that interprets the needs and desires of its users...

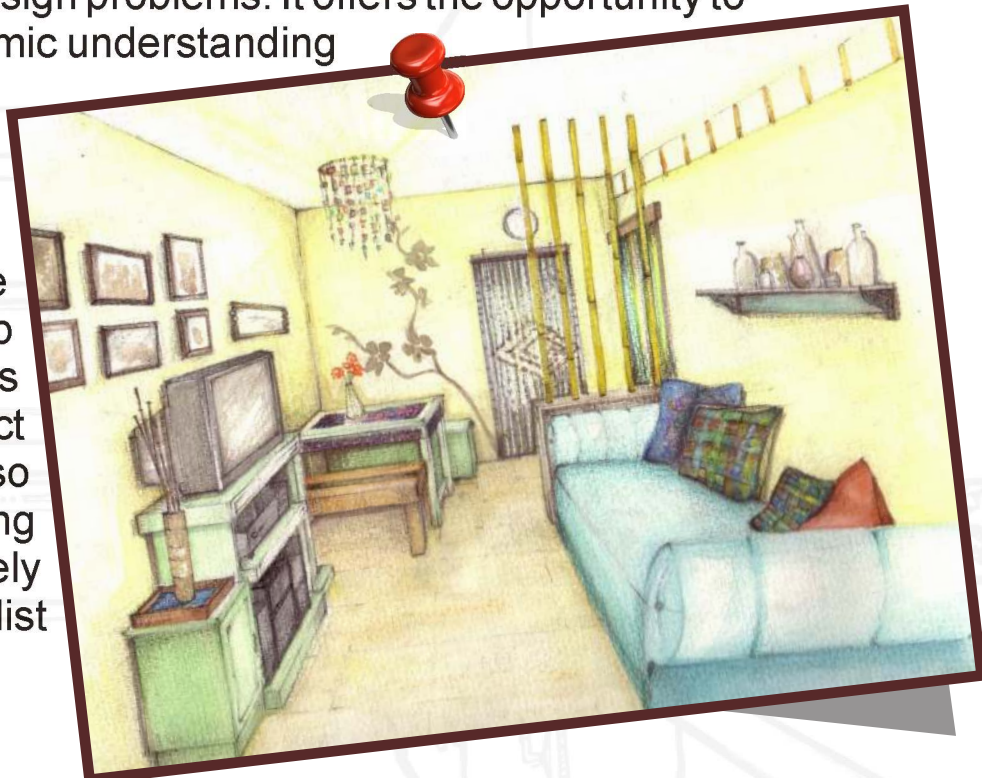

And, the challenge in educating interior design student is to deal with advances in technologies and to temper this knowledge with social and historical perspectives, thus assuring that civility and human condition is integral to design. We believe the future is in the hands of truly creative, who imagine inconceivable, who dare to dream of doing things just a little differently...

We are here to help you realize your dreams.
